

Enzyme Powered Eco-Aeration™

Managing thatch doesn't have to mean heavy equipment, disruptive schedules, or limited options. NUTRIO® PRO AERAVA™ offers a sprayable, biology-based approach that gives turf managers more flexibility than ever. Powered by the natural laccase enzyme, NUTRIO PRO AERAVA breaks down lignin—the structural “armor” that makes thatch so persistent—and works steadily throughout the season to accelerate natural decomposition. Applied as part of a season-long program, it improves water movement, rooting, and overall soil health, while integrating seamlessly into existing aeration schedules or serving as a stand-alone solution where time, labor, or budgets are tight. The result: healthier, stronger turf and more consistent playing surfaces—all with less disruption to your operation.
